PREFACE.

This volume of marriage records completes the publication of the Woburn Records of Births, Deaths and Marriages from 1640 to Jan. 1, 1873. Its arrangement corresponds with that adopted in the previous volumes of Births and Deaths, the surnames being arranged alphabetically, and, under the respective surnames, the Christian names are grouped chronologically. Each marriage record appears twice: once under the name of the man and again under that of the woman. The adoption of this plan renders any index unnecessary, thereby saving to the reader the time and labor usually involved in turning from index to subject matter, and avoiding the danger of error and omission to which every index is exposed.

In 1857, the Legislature of Massachusetts passed the following law:—

"The clerk of every city and town in this Commonwealth, shall make a certified copy of the record of all marriages, recorded in the books of said city or town, where either or both of the parties were resident in any other town in the Commonwealth at the time of said marriage; and he shall also, as far as the same is practicable, make a like copy of all such marriages recorded in any parish records, or in any records kept by any clergyman or magistrate within said town; and the said clerk shall transmit said certified copies to the clerk of the city or town in which such party or parties were resident at the time of said marriage."

This law applied only to marriages solemnized prior to the year 1800. In accordance with its provisions there were transmitted to the town clerk of Woburn, records of over three hundred marriages solemnized in other municipalities in this Commonwealth, in which one or both of the contracting parties were residents of Woburn. These marriages are included in this publication; and, in each instance, the name of the town or city where the marriage occurred is also given. I have also inserted the record of all marriages found in the first volume of the Second Parish Church Records (Burlington) covering the period from 1735 down to 1828.

Furthermore, I have incorporated into this volume, by way of foot-notes, a few extracts taken from the Middlesex County Court Records. These records contain a great deal of interesting and hitherto unknown facts about the early settlers of Woburn, and shed new light on their life and their customs, their faults and their virtues. The greater portion of the material thus obtained could not, with propriety, be printed in this work and has been reserved for future use. I may state that my researches in this direction have proved, among other things, that the first volume of the Woburn Records is wholly in the handwriting of Major William Johnson, the second town clerk of Woburn, and is, therefore, prior to 1672, a copied record. The records kept by his father, Capt. Edward Johnson, the first town clerk, certified extracts of which can be found among the court files at Cambridge, are not in all cases identical with the existing town record. Moreover, the chirography of Capt. Johnson does not correspond with that to be found in our first volume of town records. As an illustration of the handwriting of father and son I have added at the end of this Preface fac-simile reproductions of two papers discovered among the Middlesex court files. A comparison of these fac-similes with the writing in the first volume of the Woburn Records, or with the fac-simile specimen of the town records printed in Poole's edition of "Johnson's Wonder-Working Providence," will convince any one of the truth of the above statement as to the authorship of our first volume of records. Mr. William R. Cutter was the first person to suspect that this volume of records was copied, and recent discoveries have fully sustained him in the opinions expressed in "The Woburn Journal," March 8, 1889.

The following figures,* obtained by actual count, may be of interest:—

Number of persons whose birth is published in Part I	12,755
Number of persons whose death is published in Part II	6,326
Number of persons whose marriage is published in Part III	7,662
Total	26,743

It is my intention, subject to the approval of the proper authorities, to publish with the city report of next year the record of births from Jan. 1, 1873, to Dec. 31, 1890, inclusive, and with it such additions and corrections of the first published record of births (1640 to 1872 inclusive) as have been discovered and furnished by those people who have taken an interest in perfecting it. With the city report of 1892, I hope in like manner to publish the record of deaths from 1873 to Dec. 31, 1890, inclusive; and, in 1893, the record of marriages for the same period. When all this shall have been done, I recommend that for the decade ending 1900, and thereafter in each succeeding decade, the publication be continued in similar form. By omitting in the future from the annual city report the printed record of births, marriages and deaths, which has appeared there in years past without arrangement suitable for future reference, the publication of the records in the manner here recommended will impose little, if any, additional expense on the city.

I wish more of our citizens would take the pains to supply from family registers and other sources the omissions which are found to exist in the town clerk's records. Such supplied records may prove of great value in the future, not merely as a matter of family history, but in the adjustment and settlement of estates, and in the determination of other matters of legal and pecuniary importance. Many an applicant for a pension at the present day finds the omission of some portion of his family records to be a great obstacle to the successful prosecution of his claim. Indeed, no person can afford to allow such records to remain inaccurate or imperfect, for they are liable to prove of essential value at any time. I shall always be pleased to receive from reliable sources any information about our records, and shall see to it that, in subsequent publications, all valuable matter thus contributed is printed in proper form and place.

BULFINCH.†

* Received from Alva S. Wood.

† The Bulfinch family of Woburn, of Lynn and of Waldoboro, Me., are descended from John Bulfinch of Boston, a ship-joiner by trade, who married, first, Elizabeth Bumstead of Boston, Nov. 3, 1726, and, second, Mary Peabody of Boxford, May 10, 1739. He died about 1774, and his son John, born July 27, 1727, also a ship-joiner, married Anna Breed of Boston, Sept. 10, 1754. He died in Lynn, Feb. 4, 1812. His son, Jeremiah, born in Boston, in 1759, died in Maine, Nov. 19, 1846. He married, first, July 22, 1787, Rebecca Cheever (nee Johnson), and second, March 19, 1807, Hannah Flint (nee Newhall). He had fourteen children, two of whom, John and Henry, were graduated at Harvard, and the seventh, Amos Breed (born in Lynn, March 25, 1799), married, June, 1821, Hannah Coombs, daughter of Nicholas and Hannah (Miller) Coombs, of Marblehead. She was born Sept. 2, 1802, and died Dec. 20, 1883. They had issue born in Lynn: (1) Henry, born May 14, 1822; (2) Susan, born Oct. 9, 1823; (3) Julia Ann, born June 23, 1825; (4) Maria, born July 7, 1828; (5) Lucinda, born Aug. 11, 1831, died April 2, 1878. The births of four other children are published in Part I., where the birth of Charles, given as April 8, 1841, should read, April 8, 1839. The emigrant ancestor is believed to be the John Bulfinch, referred to by Savage, who settled in Salem as early as 1640. He returned to England and died at Chatham, Kent County, about 1680. Administration on his estate in this country was granted to his daughter, Katherine Bell, widow of Abraham Bell of Charlestown.—Middlesex County Court Records, Vol. 11., page 334.
 I have in manuscript considerable genealogical data on the Bulfinch family and should be pleased to correspond with any of that name who are interested in their family history.
